Of Course

Wherever you go, American Standard is there. In fact, American Standard products can be found in 3 out of 5 homes in America.

American Standard products can be found in hotels across the country such as Marriott, Sheraton and Hyatt. You'll find us in busy airports like O'Hare and Kennedy International, as well as sporting facilities like Madison Square Garden, Paul Brown Stadium and Wrigley Field.

American Standard is a daily part of people's lives in over 40 countries.

And we take that responsibility very seriously.

That's why our bath and kitchen products are designed to marry style and function with innovative solutions, creating items that simply make your life easier. We're constantly looking to solve everyday problems in resourceful and surprising ways.

Ways that make you say: "Of course—it's American Standard."

Since the nineteenth century, we've had a rich history of leadership and continuous innovation.

Along with being the first to manufacture the one-piece toilet, American Standard also introduced the first combination faucet, allowing hot and cold water to mix. And we not only made the original cast-iron tub, we created its lighter alternative, Americast®.

Our innovation process is driven by insight—what do homeowners want? what do builders need? how can we help plumbers?

All our products are engineered for the long-term and backed by some of the best warranties in the industry. But our ultimate goal is to create solutions that make your life easier—achieving new insights along the way.

Today, our suites are designed to offer the total bathroom solution, from the toilet and tub to the towel bars and mirrors. Our kitchen collections start with the basics, then incorporate a range of accessories that add ease and function to food preparation and clean-up.

American Standard can be found in the retail and commercial markets, as well as luxury showrooms. Whether you're a plumber, builder, designer, architect, or homeowner, our versatile team is ready to help. You can count on our extensive wholesale distribution network to deliver the products you want, in the quantities you want, exactly where and when you want them.

Builders and Remodelers

We are a full-line, full-service supplier for kitchen, bath, laundry room, wet bar, outdoors, and garage, with entry-level to luxury solutions that fit a range of budgets. And we've designed several strategies to help simplify the process, such as buying programs, distribution centers, and trade reward programs.

Plumbers

Our mission is to make your job easier. One way we did that was by creating Americast®—at one-half the weight of cast iron, it reduces labor, installation costs, and back injuries. And our Speed Connect® innovations have cut tank-to-bowl installation time by 30% and made tool-free, 4-part drain installation a reality. Our plumber rewards and education programs round out our total commitment to plumbers.

Commercial Trade

We're known as the industry "standard," and for good reason. We reduced water usage by more than 20% in a single flush with the FloWise® toilet. And the Selectronic® electronic faucet was the first truly headache-free, hands-free system. Our dedicated resources will keep everything running smoothly.
